My Research

I like to spend a lot of time with horses, thereby studying them at the same time. If you are a fan of horses like me, then you can write to me and we will discuss spending time together.

Awards

The lord of the trotters. Mastering the art of horse riding.

International Equestrian Association (FEI) · May 2019

For outstanding achievements in the study of the biomechanics of horse movement and the practical application of knowledge in competitions. I managed to reach a level that allows me to optimize my interaction with the horse so that the results in the disciplines of triathlon and dressage improved; I demonstrated an exceptional understanding of equine anatomy and behavior.

Sad

These months at home have passed too quickly. It seemed that he had just met with his family, hugged his parents, sat with friends, and it was time to return to school. It's so strange to realize that you have to leave everything that is so dear again.

Every corner here is saturated with memories, and every day the departure seems harder. I will miss evenings with my loved ones and walking along familiar streets. Of course, there are new knowledge and opportunities ahead, but leaving home is always difficult.
